A.G.T. DIAL PHONES

At one minute past midnight Sunday, December 18th an era closed in Drayton Valley and there was a certain amount of sadness at its closing. Technology, "progress" is a strange impersonal thing: it affects human beings, personalities, and causes their way of life to change. Change is pain and parcel of Nature, and of life, but still it carries with it a certain amount of sadness, of nostalgia, of longing for the days that are past; days that are past and gone irrevocably, never to be reclaimed or recaptured again.

At one minute past midnight, Sunday December 18th, seventeen Drayton Valley personalities became temporarily jobless. These were the girls who had worked at the switchboard, taking care of myriads of telephone calls that went through the office daily. Some had worked at the telephone switchboard in this town almost ever since there had been a town in the sense that we now know it. Some were single girls, nursing their livelihood; some were married, helping out in car-ring on the expenses of building the home. Some had started out as single girls on this switchboard in Drayton Valley, romance had called and after their marriage they remained at the switchboard to help in the family finances.

Adjustments will be made, of course, in the lives of all those who were affected by the dial telephone changeover. The single girls have already been assigned to other places, to other telephone offices where the impersonal hand of advanced telephony technology has not yet been felt. We will miss them; Drayton Valley will miss them. We had come to know them all, and to like them. We feel that they have done the very best they could. It has been a busy switchboard, in a busy, bustling town and district and the operators have done well.

Most of the operators were married women, whose husbands are employed in this district. They will stay, and many of them will find other lines of work. But, one and all, they have done their best, under

Just after the dial telephone changeover at midnight December 18th, in the Alberta Government Telephones building some A.G.T. brass and Mayor Adrian Meier lined up for their picture. what has sometimes been trying circumstances. We didn't always show our appreciation while they were here, but now that they are gone, we say, belatedly, "Thank you, girls, for a job well done, and the best of luck in the future, and may the good Lord bless you all!"

At 12:01 midnight, Sunday December 18th, an era was ushered out and a new era was ushered in with a call from Mayor Ron Gordon, of Lacombe where the switchover to the dial system was made at identically the same moment as here. His Worship, the Mayor of Lacombe, was calling the Mayor of Drayton Valley, His (Cont. page 19, Col. 1)

CEMING IN DRAYTON VALLEY

A very good crowd went to the Drayton Valley Elementary School Auditorium on the evening of Saturday, December 10th, to see Al Oeming's film "In the Land of the Black Bear" and his famous cheetah. Two shows were given, one at 6:45 and one at 9:00 p.m.

The magnificent two-hour show was filmed in 1960 when Mr. Oeming, accompanied by Europe's top wildlife photographer, German-born Herr Schumacher, and a party of over fifty guides, packmen, etc., with fifty-five pack-horses made the seven month trip through the wilds of western Alberta and eastern British Columbia, from Dawson Creek, B.C. to Banff, Alberta. The party started in early spring from Dawson Creek and finished in Banff, long after the snow had fallen.

The film has some very excellent shots of wildlife in its natural habitat, the rugged, uninhabited, almost inaccessible section of the country through which the pack train went. Included in the film were shots of a magnificent bull moose, with a tremendous rack of horns.

Elusive mountain goats were filmed as they climbed the almost sheer rock faces of the mountains, and, of course, the omnipresent black bear, for which the film was named, wandered through the film in many places. The film was generously done in color, with many of the sounds of the wild animals recorded on the sound track. The accompanying musical adaptation was superbly done. Mr. Oeming and Mr. Schumacher collaborated in filming the magnificent nature pictures.

The film had its premiere showing in Germany, and has been shown in most of the capitals of Europe. Mr. Oeming has received numerous letters from folks in England and many other countries where the film has been shown, requesting that it be brought back to the country to be re-shown. The Ontario Society of Naturalists wishes to have a similar film done by Mr. Oeming and his team, on the Province of Ontario.

Mr. Oeming, who is rated as one of the country's top naturalists, is intensely interested in the conservation of our wildlife and the film awakens one to the need for conservation of these wonderful natural beauties of (Cont. page 19, Col. 1)

Al Oeming and his famous cheetah "Tanawah" at the showing of the Oeming nature film "In the Land of the Black Bear" at Drayton Valley Elementary School December 10th. The cheetah is the world's fastest mammal. Mr. Oeming said that cheetahs had been clocked at about ninety miles an hour. He told some amusing stories about Tanawah, and his tremendous speed. One occurred time when the cheetah jumped out of the pickup truck while Mr. Oeming was stopped beside a highway. The cheetah, (which doesn't seem to like fat men of motorcycle) took after a motorcycle as it whizzed by. At said that as they disappeared over the horizon the motorcycle and the cheetah were running neck-and-neck, and he wondered if the motor cyclist was ever able to get anyone to believe his story that he was chased down the highway by a spotted animal at ninety miles an hour. WHEN FARMING WAS BEASTLY

The trouble with plowing by beast power, back in the days of primitive man, was that usually man's muscles gave out before the beast's.

Since then we have learned to harness more manageable sources of power to do our plowing and other work, and our standard of living has never been higher.

Today Canadian farmers rely on petroleum-powered horsepower rather than animal power, and Canadian farms are among the most efficient in the world. Canadian farmers can depend on oil supplies wherever and whenever they need them—and at reasonable prices. The price Imperial receives for tractor gasoline has gone down, rather than up, over the past ten years.

CHRISTMAS

God in heaven knows our human nature. He knows that a king can conquer and bend men to his will. He knew that a hero can stir the sentiments of admiration in the hearts of his countrymen. He knew that a millionaire might win himself a certain number of fair weather friends. But the Almighty did not want the fear that is shown the conqueror, not the shouting accorded the hero, not the toadying shown to the rich. He wanted love. To get love the Son of God took the form of a helpless Baby.

Christ could have our conquered Alexander, Caesar and Napoleon. He could have come in a blaze of wealth and glory, with a pageantry that would put the parades of man to shame. He could have had our awe, our respect our admiration, our fear our praise, our service and even to a certain extent our love. But it would not be all out. We give to our babies who are helpless. It would have lacked the laughter and heart throb that the human spirit holds out to the helpless.

Christ came upon the stage of the world nearly 2000 years ago, poor, helpless, even homeless. Shepherds were told of His coming. In a spirit of love they brought their own gifts of milk and bread and wool, and most of all their love. Wise men crossed continents carrying precious gifts because they wanted to give gifts to the Baby. Of all these gifts we may be sure that the most pleasing to Christ was their love.

Every gift at this season of giving can be given to the Baby Christ, if it is given in the spirit of Christ, for the sake of Christ, and the sake of Christ's own, the poor, the neglected, the weak, the weary.

Giving is the spirit of Christmas. Every gift must be one of love or it has lost all its meaning. And that love should be centered in the little child who brought true love to the world.

Foreign to this true spirit of Christ is the spirit about us today. Everywhere we hear complaints of the value of gifts received, perhaps they don't cost enough or are not big enough, so we are not satisfied and feel unhappy. We do need a return to Christ and His love.

To Christ we must give sorrow for sin, a promise of improvement and above all a home in our hearts from which too often He is shut out. A heart that is sincere, contrite and full of love for our fellowmen in every person that all the gold, frankincense and myrror that is found in this world of ours.

JOY OF HEAVEN

Love Divine, all loves excelling,
Joy of heaven to earth come down!

Christmas! Once again, for those who have prepared their hearts to receive the Christ-Child the cold, ice-hard pressures of the world melt and yield before the warmth of the warm glow that is the true Christmas Spirit, and the world's gloom vanishes in the radiant joy of heaven to earth come down. How can we be sure to share in the true worth of this holy season this glorious celebration of God's coming to us in person?

More important: How can we assure ourselves that this comfort and joy will become a part of us and live in us throughout the year? Four and a half centuries ago in 1613 a Christian named Fra Giovanni set down the answers in a Christmas Eve letter.

"No heaven can come to us unless our hearts find rest in it today. Take Heaven! No peace lies in the future which is not hidden in this present little instant. Take peace! The gloom of the world is but a thin veil, behind it is the wisdom of God is joy. There is radiance and we see soon and to see, we have only to look.

we, judging its gifts by their covering, cast them away as ugly or heavy or hard. Remove the covering and you will find beneath it a splendor, a wonder of love, by wisdom, with power! Welcome it, grasp it, and you touch the Angel's hand that is divine; the gift is there, and the wonder of an overhanging presence. Our joys too: be not content with them as joys. They too, conceal divine gifts. Life is full of meaning and of purpose, so full of beauty - beneath its covering - you will find earth but cloaks your heaven. Courage, then, to claim it: that is all! But courage you have; and the knowledge that we are pilgrims together, winding through unknown country, home.

And so, at this Christmas time, I greet you not quite as the world's sincere greetings, not with profound esteem, and with the prayer that for you, now and forever, the day breaks and the shadow flee away.

Take Heaven. Take joy. Take the Peace which passeth all understanding. They are here, now God's gift to us - wrapped in swaddling clothes and in Love Divine. Take them to your heart and have a Merry Christmas, now and forever.

REPORT FROM PARLIAMENT HILL

HOUSE OF COMMONS
Canada
By Hugh M. Horner, M.D., M.P., Jasper-Edson.

New N.H.A. amendments approved recently by Parliament will be of interest and importance to each constituent. They can be divided into four categories.

1. Changes in the loaning policy of C.M.H.C. will make lower down payments by increasing the allowable loans from 90% to 95% of the first $12,000 and to 95% from 85% of the balance. This will mean Canadians will be able to own their own homes and still be saving money compared with renting similar homes. This is important to the development of our towns. You will recall that until we came to power in 1957, there was very little lending done in communities outside the cities. This has changed and rightly so that people in our towns can have the same advantage as their city counterparts. It also means stability of development for our towns.

It should be a real stimulus to employment and I hope will encourage our lumber operators to plant a full scale winter program in the woods this winter.

2. The second change allows C.M.H.C. to assist municipalities in Urban redevelopment and to improve old housing as well as to build new. It also increases the maximum amount of home improvement loan which will be available. These two will be a stimulus to employment and to our lumber industry.

3. The third category is a new one and often born to Canadian Uniservices to provide dormitory accommodations for non-resident students.

4. The fourth category is another new section and allows the Federal Government to make loans to municipalities (through the province) to assist in the construction of sewage treatment facilities which include trunk sewage, collecting system and treatment plants.

Provision is made to make loans up to 2/3 the cost of the project repayable over a maximum period of 60 years. To give an impetus to this program, the Federal Government will write off 25% of the amount of the loan if the work is completed by March 31, 1969.

This will be of particular importance to all of our towns. I know that Edson, Earhead and other towns are now considering sewage treatment facilities and I hope that they will be able to take advantage of this new Act.

GREEN ACRES

BY DICK HOCKINS
MARGE IN HOGS

Mange accounts for twenty per cent of the rejected hogs inspected by Provincial Veterinarian Inspectors at livestock auction markets.

The problem is accentuated during the winter months due to more inside living. If the condition is neglected the pigs become unthrifty and stunted. One farmer, who had a bad infestation of mange in his herd during the winter of 1968, took from four to six weeks longer than his average marketing time to get his pigs up to market weight.

Mange is caused by a mite scarcely visible to the naked eye, which burrows into the skin. It is usually spread by contact but may be transmitted by brushes, brooms, infected bedding, rubbers (Cont', next Col.)

bing posts, etc. Robbing may be noticed before the skin shows any change and the first lesions, in the form of reddened areas, usually appear around the ears, eyes or nose. From here the condition may spread over the entire body if unchecked. These reddened areas eventually darken, thicken and become wrinkled and scabby.

There are several effective drugs such as Lindane, on the market to combat mange. They should be used strictly according to the manufacturer's directions and should not be administered within thirty days of slaughtering. Treatment should be accompanied by a thorough cleaning and disinfecting of living quarters. Unused crude oil is very beneficial in curing the little pigs.

One teaspoon of raw linseed oil per hundred pounds of pig is a good tonic to help get the skin back in order. For a positive diagnosis consult your veterinarian.

GROWING LEGUMES

Most farmers in this area seed their forage crops with a nurse crop of grain. One of the reasons is to provide competition for the legumes, and a weak forage stand often results. In this district we have seen excellent results from excellent results from seedling without a nurse crop - unless the field has a lot of weeds. In that case, the stand could be mowed high to be sure that no weed seeds mature.

A more recent way of removing weeds from the young legume stand is through the use of chemicals.

Acetic and butyric forms of 2, 4-d and MCP have provided satisfactory control of lamb's quarters, stinkweed, wild mustard and Russian pigweed. The legume is thus freed from competition of both companion crop and many of the weeds, and a stronger and more quickly established stand results.

Looking at Recreation

by Michael Corneley
Recreational Director

A HAPPY HOLIDAY SEASON

It's Christmas time again. A time of rejoicing and merry-making, a time of renewing and recalling old friendships and making new ones. The season grows deeper and stronger, a time when love and peace reign among men of good will as even a time of nostalgia, when the glamorous times of Christmas past are recalled and the absent personalities are missed. It is those happy seasons of other years shrouded in the mists of time. The immortal Christmas Spirit spreads over the world touching each and every individual with its magic wand even those who maintain that they are not affected by the season's commotion.

Possibly the greatest writer of Christmas stories that ever lived the incomparable Charles Dickens described Christmas in words something like these: "Happy, Happy Christmas, that takes the old man back to his boyhood days, that carries the traveler and the sailor, a thousand miles from home back to his own quiet fireside and his happy home." This is what Christmas meant to Dickens, what it meant to the brave men who were scattered across foreign battlefields during the dark days of the world war and to a great extent what it means to each and every one of us today. I have yet to meet a man, woman, boy or girl who does not spend Christmas at home. If not in person at least in spirit. A person may be a thousand miles away, but deep in his own thoughts he is back home, by his own quiet fireside on Christmas Day.

This is my first Christmas Season in Drayton Valley, but I certainly hope it will not be my last. A deep fondness for this town has grown on me and I certainly hope to be around for awhile. I have traveled from the East coast and of all the places I have been, Drayton Valley is my pick. I think that there is an atmosphere of friendliness and good will in this place that is hard to equal. I have been here only five months but I figure I have had time enough to consider and judge for 'seniors' or for wome and I am happy to say that it is definitely for the better. Yes, I like Drayton Valley very much. I like the people and if the feeling is mutual I certainly would like to make my home here.

I will grant the fact that I have been no person in my work here as Recreation Director. I made many mistakes here and there along the line of duty. I can truthfully say, however, that I never erred intentionally. Cont. next column and in all sincerity I always worked with the common good utmost in my mind. In other words I may have missed my leadership through human frailty but I never voluntarily abused this leadership. I have enjoyed my work here to a high degree and I have put as much of myself into it as I possibly could. On the other hand the co-operation and the assistance from the town folk has been really outstanding. If I have made a success of my work in this community, I am not the one that is entirely responsible; the wonderful people have more than did their share. A recreation director like a quarterback or a goalkeeper is as good as the team that backs him up, and no more. In my case I have had one hundred percent backing from one and all for which at this time I would like to say a very sincere "thank you".

I would like to wish one and all, young and old, a very Merry Christmas. May the true peace and goodwill of this holy and happy season be with you on Christmas Day and may your family reunions be filled with joy and happiness. May the New Year be happy and bright for each one of you may your every desire be filled and may 1961 be a very prosperous year for Drayton Valley and its residents.

I am looking forward to serving you with renewed enthusiasm during the coming year. I think that I can do a worthwhile job in this community. It would be impossible for me to please everyone all the time, however; this will make a very appropriate goal or objective and if I can come close to this goal to please most of the people most of the time, I will be happy. If not entirely satisfied.

Your Travelling Art Exhibition;

Very early in the New Year, on January 4, 1961 the first two of three art exhibitions will be presented in this community. The pictures will be displayed in the library of the Town Hall. The first exhibition, consisting of 10 pictures will arrive here on Jan. 4th and will be on display until Jan. 8th. This first exhibition is a "rooster of the Calgary Allied Arts Council" and contains some very understanding works of art done by some of the finest artists of Southern Alberta. You will see "Sunlit Landscape" by Ruth Cockburn, "Heaven Country" by M. Gonzalez, and "The Old Homestead" by K.M. Baines among others.

The second exhibition also arriving in town on Jan. 4th and stopping over until Jan. 10th is a production of the Art Division Dept. of Extension of the U. of A. This exhibition has 18 pictures. Next column ture and appears to have more personalized paintings than the former. Among these works you will find "Landscape" by Harry Wohlforth, "Pauline" by D.D. Barry, "Maid of the Mountain" by Molly Simmons Critchley and "No Picnic" by Dorothy Paul Bamhouse.

The library will be open for the display of these exhibitions while they are in town. There will be a display every evening and if such can be arranged it would be well to have a few afternoon presentations also. At this time I would appreciate hearing from those interested persons who would be willing to give a hand with this very worthwhile project.

The local hockey rink is all ready for action and on Monday Jan. 30th, the local "Minor Hockey" schedule will get under way. There will be five Pee Wee teams, three Bantam squads, an "All Star Midget" outfit and a Juvenile team. Among the Pee Wee and Bantam teams will play a ten game schedule after which playoffs will be held. The Midgets and Juveniles will play against out-of-town opposition and will compete in the provincial play-downs. The town's intermediate team, the Rebels, will carry on along similar lines.

TOWN CALENDAR
The town calendar has been dropped this week due to the lack of recreational activity. This feature, however, will be renewed in the first edition of the New Year. Until then Cheers!

GYMKHANA NEWS

The Ladies Gymkhana Club held its first social evening in the Rocky Rapids Hall on December 9th. In the form of a novelty dance. The lucky winner of the door prize, a three pound box of chocolates, was Mrs. Donald Hines. Mrs. Linda Cadmus made the draw. The elimination dance and the broom dance were both very popular. We wish to thank all the social committee who served a delicious lunch and coffee. Also, many thanks to the people who donated the meat and salad, and to the Riviera Caravan who played for us. Last, but not least, our president, Steve Reddin, who acted as M.C. and did a very good job.

Membership cards are available for members. We hope to see more people join us and have fun with us.

REVIEW OF CHRISTMAS EVENTS AT THE CHURCH OF GOD.

During this last few weeks many programs have taken place so that, everyone may become fully aware of the purpose of Christmas Day.

To start our seasonal activities a banquet was given in the Church Fellowship space for the Christian Fellowship Club. This banquet was served by the Top Teens of the church with the Anglican ladies directing them in their work. An enjoyable program was directed by Mr. Walter Diener.

On Friday afternoon of Dec. 16 there was a program for the parents of the Nursery and Kindergarten classes held at the Church, under the direction of Mrs. T. W. D. Johnson and Mrs. J. C. Wilf. These small children presented the story of Christ to their mothers and friends. While the children adjourned to wrap a small gift for their mothers. The mothers were informed of the Sunday School lessons that would be taught in the next three months and they were encouraged to help teach their children in these lessons. With the adjournment of the afternoon program tea was served to the mothers and lunch to the children. Just before leaving the church the children were given a gift of candies.

On Sunday Evening of Dec. 18 (Col. 1, next Col.)

there was a program of Christmas Music presented by the church choir and groups of musical numbers with several Carols sung by the congregation. The pastor brought a meditation on, "Giving our Best Gifts." At the close of the service a Christ Birthday Offering which will be combined with offerings from other Church of God Congregations in Canada and U.S.A. A total of $210,000.00 is expected to be given and this offering will be sent to do Mission work.

On December 19, The Primary Dept. of The Church presented their Christmas program to their parents in the sanctuary and then adjourned to the Fellowship Space for a light lunch and a passing out of treats. This Department has been under the direction of Mr. Jim Kay the Sunday School Supt.

On December 20, at 6:30 p.m. The Top Teens of the Church entertained their parents at a Christmas Fellowship Supper, under the leadership of Mr. & Mrs. Dennis Cartwright. After the Evening Supper and program the film, "Martin Luther", was shown in the Sanctuary with the public attending.

Then on December 20, at 7:30 p.m. the singing children's program, with the Junior Sunday School class and the Primary club combined, will be under the direction of Mr. & Mrs. (Col. 1, next Col.)

Let us pray with deep reverence on this most blessed day for peace on earth... good will toward all men...

There are over fifty juniors in this active age group. A few of their recitations and pantomimes of the Christmas Story, depicted by them for their parents and friends, they adjourned and went in, the Fellowship room for coffee and the exchange of Gifts.

The final Christmas Service will be held at 11:00 A.M. on Christmas Sunday. We invite you to come and enjoy the blessing of God with us as we hear the great story of the birth of Jesus, the Christ, who was and is the Saviour for all men.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES

To sin is to do anything contrary to the will of God. When Adam disobeyed God and was forced out of the garden of Eden he lost his perfection and began to die. This was not God's original purpose for him or his children - Gen. 1:28. "For just as through the disobedience of the one man, many were constituted sinners, likewise also through the obedience of the one person many will be constituted righteous." Rom. 5:19.

God has given us a second chance. Under Jehovah's just law like must go for like "Life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth" Exodus 21:23, 24.

Jesus, God's son came to earth through the virgin Mary. He lived, grew up, proved himself faithful and died a perfect human. He bought back the life that Adam threw away. "For all have sinned and fall short of the glory of God, and it is as a free gift that they are being declared righteous by the undeserved kindness through the release of the ransom paid by Christ Jesus." Rom. 3:23-25.

True man is still dying but not for long. We have God's promise that "The last enemy death is to be destroyed." 1 Cor. 15:26. What a wonderful gift our Creator has put before us, all that is required of us is that we love and obey him. Soon he will "wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain, for the former things are passed away." "For ye a little while, and the wicked shall not be; yea, thou shalt diligently consider his place and it shall not be, but the meek shall inherit the earth; and shall delight themselves in the abundance of peace." Rev. 21:4; Psalm 37:10, 11.

Presiding Minister.

may be safely treated with 2, 4-D or MCPA amines at 3 to 4 ounces per acre. Sweet clover, however, has proved much more sensitive to herbicides and should be sprayed only where weed competition is very severe. In this event, MCPA amine at 3 to 4 ounces per acre is suggested.

Comparison of the acetates with the more recently developed butyrates shows the butyrates 4-(MCPB) and 4-(2,4-DIB) effective against the same weeds as the acetates MCPA and 2, 4-D. On seedling alfalfa, 34 to 38 ounces of 4-(2,4-DIB) at the same rate has proved effective. Neither 2, 4-D ester nor MCPA ester should be used on legume stands.

While alfalfa and the clover are unaffected by these high doses of the butyrates, the weed control is similar or very little better than with low doses of 2, 4-D or MCPA. The least effective butyric dose is 16 ounces per acre compared with a high of 4 or 6 ounces of the acetates. Since the butyrates are more expensive and about four times as much material is required, cost can be a deciding factor in comparing the two.

Albany's 250,000 head of milk cows contribute to the province's $47,000,000 dairy industry. Almost 3,000 miles of Albany's nearly 90,000 miles of roads are paved.

W.I. Meeting

The December meeting of the Drayton Valley Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Walter Krause on Monday

December 19 with eleven men present.

At the short business meeting secretary Mrs. Jack Frank gave a report on the Year's activities. She also read a letter of thanks from the Oliver Mental Institute for Christmas cards sent in for patients to distribute to their relatives. Mrs. Delby reported on welfare. One burned out family was given clothing and other articles. Mrs. Delby also reported that the Club had purchased 20 towels from Adams to be donated to Unstated Services. In her report on the girls club Mrs. Oscar reported that the girls are to be given the Junior St. John's Ambulance course in Feb. It was decided that the W.I. would give $100.00 to the Hospital towards a T.V. for the new wing of the Children's Ward.

Following the business meeting a Christmas party was enjoyed with games, exchange of gifts and a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Hardy.

A draw was made for the quilt and Mrs. Jack Frank was the lucky winner. The quilt, done in the blue and white colors of the W.I., is entirely hand made and quilted, and was made by the group last year for the handicraft display.

This is perhaps but one of many technological changes that will take place in this field. Automation will increasingly come into operation here. But research has found that for every job displaced by automation approximately one and a third other jobs are created somewhere along the line, so we may look forward to the future with confidence. An ever-expanding economy will more than take care of the personal worker, the labor problem, right on down into the foreseeable future. We cannot say technological advance, even if we would. It will be a servant, giving us a better life, not a monster to devour us.

D.V. Highlights

BY: EDITH DEBY

Our best wishes for future happiness are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Chipchase.

Mrs. Jack Frank has made cribbage history in Drayton Valley. Last week while playing with Mrs. Charles Blon as partner, Mrs. Frank scored a 29 hand.

Mrs. Frank is one of those persons on whom Lady Luck smiles. This week she won the W.I.'s beautiful patched quilt. Other wins in the past include a station wagon and a holiday trailer.

Mrs. Walter Durham and her granddaughter, Miss Sandra Pratt, entertained at their home on Saturday evening in honour of Miss Mary Yovk whose marriage to Mr. Kenneth MacKenzie is to take place in early Jan. The bride had the seat of honour in a corner made gay with streamers and a chair decorated for the occasion.

The business were assisted by Miss Peggy Bills and Miss Gail Williams. The guests enjoyed an evening of games and contests. After opening her gifts the bride thanked the guests for the lovely presents and good wishes.

Mrs. Jean Dix is helping out at Lloyd's Jewellery during the Christmas rush.

We are told that progress is good or a step forward but I, for one, miss the operator's voice saying pleasantly "Number Please" On Monday evening the telephone operators held a farewell banquet. Some are already gone and others will be going soon. Among them is Eleanor Chipchase who is working in High River and Sheila Vandergrift who will go to Olds before long.

Miss Theissen left on Wednesday to spend the holidays with her family at Vineland, near St.

Catherines, Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Boles with daughters, Marlayne and Holly, are to spend Christmas in Medicine Hat with the Allan Boles family.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Harmon were host and hostess at Western Decata's Christmas party on Tuesday night.

Mr. Lee, president of the company, was present with Mrs. Lee and daughters, Olive, Jean and Stella. The young ladies had flown from Victoria, B.C. where they attend school.

Curt Clausen showed films and Santa arrived on time with a well filled sack. Catering was done by Drayton Valley Women's Institute.

Mrs. Belinda Altom will be with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron Fraser, and Linda and Owen, in Diabrey, during the festive season.

Had hoped to be able to tell you where Scoop is going and what he is going to do during his two weeks vacation, but you know Scoop, while finding out all about your plans he manages to keep himself still about his own!

This week's message from your fire department is short, crisp, and about as original as a bushel of wheat. But there's nothing at this time of the year which causes us greater concern or is responsible for so many pathos-tragedies as that lovely, shimmering symbol of the season, the Christmas tree.

We want to take this opportunity to remind you again that

Christmas trees are potentially great fire menace, and we beg of you to please bear in mind these something especially and about a family being burnt out during this season; so let's keep our own fires of such a thing, it would help make a happier Christmas for us all, and especially for your volunteers.
